Mixed Animal Practice

A rare opportunity has arisen for an experienced forward thinking Veterinary Surgeon to join our well-established genuine mixed animal practice in Staffordshire, serving a wide range of clients locally from large dairy herds to small companion animals.

We are looking for an ambitious individual with excellent communication skills who is passionate about progressing their career within mixed practice.

The successful candidate will have a varied caseload with the opportunity to work across all areas of the business with a support team of friendly like-minded colleagues. The post would ideally suit a more experienced candidate who may be considering a certificate in the near future. A graduate support programme may also be considered for the right person.

This rewarding and varied position comes with an attractive package including a generous CPD allowance and the opportunity to progress in a highly respected practice in both the farm and companion animal communities.

For further information and to apply for this exciting position, please contact Ben Fowlie on 07415 207852 or ben.fowlie@donnachieandtownley.co.uk
